An Ordinance

Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II,

In the Twenty-sixth Year of the Reign of the Colony of the Falkland Islands

1977

No. 13

Governor

As passed in Her Majesty's name this 7th day of July 1977.
(c) Any law which the Commissioner considers unnecessary to publish at all or in any amended, revised or reprinted form.

(3) Any law concerning any special provision in respect to the Section 7. It shall not be necessary for the Commissioner to mean:

(2) The number and year of the principal Ordinance and of the Ordinance can have force unless

(1) Subject to the provision of section 8, each Ordinance

(5) A list of all Ordinances contained in the revised edition

(4) A list of all Ordinances contained in the last revised edition

(3) The revised edition shall contain also

(2) References to all of any such Imperial Laws.

(1) No other or proper provision to be the Commissioner in the usual

Ordinance and the Commissioner may appoint

Administrator of this Ordinance, the Commissioner may appoint

(1) Frederick George Cooke, Barrister-at-law, is

(2) The revised edition shall consist

(1) The revised edition shall consist

(2) If the said Commissioner is unable for any cause only to

(1) Provision of this Ordinance means the Ordinances, Rules, Re-

Published or General or current importance.

Passed by any Parliament or by any, and the

Any current Imperial Ordinance Omit:

Inclined to the revised edition.

Form of the revised

...
2. Any of the Commissioners shall have power:

(a) to receive such part or division of a suitable hearing as the Tribunal or any other person to the extent to which, in the opinion of the Commissioners, any such part or division is not necessary for the purposes of the proceedings to which the hearing relates;

(b) to adjourn such part or division of the hearing as the Tribunal or any other person to the extent to which, in the opinion of the Commissioners, any such part or division is not necessary for the purposes of the proceedings to which the hearing relates;

(c) to receive any evidence which, in the opinion of the Commissioners, is not necessary for the purposes of the proceedings to which the hearing relates;

(d) to give any directions as to the manner in which any part of the hearing shall be conducted;

(e) to call for and consider any information or evidence which, in the opinion of the Commissioners, is not necessary for the purposes of the proceedings to which the hearing relates;

(f) to receive any evidence which, in the opinion of the Commissioners, is not necessary for the purposes of the proceedings to which the hearing relates;

(g) to give any directions as to the manner in which any part of the hearing shall be conducted;
The Commissioner of Railways or any other person on whom duties in relation to the Railways may be specially conferred by or under any law, and the Commissioner of Railways, or any other person on whom duties in relation to the Railways may be specially conferred by or under any law, are hereby empowered to make regulations for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this Act, and any such regulations may be made by the Commissioner or any other person on whom duties in relation to the Railways may be specially conferred by or under any law, and may be consistent with any existing provisions of law as may be necessary for carrying out such provisions.

In every case where the Commissioner has made regulations under any law, and where the regulations are not consistent with any existing provisions of law, the provisions of such regulations shall prevail to the extent to which they are not inconsistent with such provisions.

The provisions of this Act shall be construed to include and be supplemental to any existing provisions of law, and any such provisions shall be read to have effect subject to the provisions of this Act, and any existing provisions of law shall be read subject to the provisions of this Act.

The provisions of this Act shall apply to the Colony or any other territory to which it may be extended, and, subject to the provisions of any other law, shall have effect throughout the Colony or any other territory to which it may be extended.

In every case where the Commissioner has made regulations under any law, and where the regulations are not consistent with any existing provisions of law, the provisions of such regulations shall prevail to the extent to which they are not inconsistent with such provisions.

In every case where the Commissioner has made regulations under any law, and where the regulations are not consistent with any existing provisions of law, the provisions of such regulations shall prevail to the extent to which they are not inconsistent with such provisions.

The provisions of this Act shall be construed to include and be supplemental to any existing provisions of law, and any such provisions shall be read to have effect subject to the provisions of this Act, and any existing provisions of law shall be read subject to the provisions of this Act.

In every case where the Commissioner has made regulations under any law, and where the regulations are not consistent with any existing provisions of law, the provisions of such regulations shall prevail to the extent to which they are not inconsistent with such provisions.

In every case where the Commissioner has made regulations under any law, and where the regulations are not consistent with any existing provisions of law, the provisions of such regulations shall prevail to the extent to which they are not inconsistent with such provisions.

In every case where the Commissioner has made regulations under any law, and where the regulations are not consistent with any existing provisions of law, the provisions of such regulations shall prevail to the extent to which they are not inconsistent with such provisions.
Clerk of the Legislative Council.

By me to be a true and correct copy of the said Bill.
This printed impression has been carefully compared by me.